

A sales executive is copying the major account list onto a CD prior to his resignation.

Should real-time surveillance and auditing be a top priority?

Absolutely.

A new Webmaster is changing the directory structure, making the system inaccessible.

The fact is, breaches do occur...often from inside the firewall. And those breaches could cost you the security of valuable corporate assets or up to $20,000 per hour in downtime.* The key to reducing your risk is to ensure you have LT Auditor+ by Blue Lance, which will enable you to immediately pinpoint the root of the problem, assess the damage, and quickly get your business back on track.
